

TWO SMALL BOYS ADMIT LARCENY OF LIBERTY BONDS

Had $900 Worth When Picked
Up After a Night's Fun
at Coney Island.

Two small boys walked from the subway kiosk at Canal and Centre Streets at 2:30 A. M. to-day into the arms of Policemen Riskey and Taylor of the Elizabeth Street Station. They were taken to the station to explain what they were doing out so late, and in their pockets and trousers' legs were found $900 in Liberty bonds.

They described themselves as Joe and Frank Laviola, brothers, eleven and ten years, respectively, of No. 77 Roosevelt Street, and said they attended Public School 12. After yesterday's session, they said, they started an exploring expedition. Down near Peck's Slip they stole a belt from a peddler, but couldn't sell it and threw it away.

Early in the evening, they said, they forced the bars of a window of J. N. Delaney & Co., No. 7 Perry Street, and entered the office. They couldn't find anything in the desks and went to the safe, the outer door of which they found open.

The inner part was locked, so they broke it open with a hammer and got the Liberty bonds. Then they went to Coney Island and had the time of their lives.

"But you can't spend Liberty bonds," a detective told them, "where did you get the money you spent at Coney?"

"Oh," explained one of the boys, "we stole $3.50 from mother before we went to school."

Later, on information furnished by the two boys, these were arrested: Frank Pannarello, ten, No. 74 Oliver Street; Michael Maffeo, ten, and brother, Frank, seven, No. 54 Roosevelt Street; and Angelo Saldo, eleven, No. 329 Water Street. The police say they learned where the Pannarello boy sold three $50 bonds for $5, and believe much more than $900 was taken from the safe.

No Trace of Baby Stolen Year Ago. Mrs. Charles Wentz, No. 409 East 82d Street, whose baby, August Philip Wentz, was stolen from his carriage one year ago to-day in front of a department store at 150th Street and Third Avenue, told an Evening World reporter to-day she has not abandoned hope of the child's return. "He's a year and eight weeks old to-day," she said, "we are still keeping his carriage and crib."

Men's Fine Suits

Every Suit in Regular Stock

(Excepting Two-Piece Summer Suits)

At Greatly Reduced Prices

$44 $54 $68 $76

At These Prices It Will Pay You to Invest in
One or Two of These Suits to Wear Next Fall

WE SHOULD, perhaps, make it clear that these are not "sale" clothes of doubtful origin, rounded up to sell at a "price." They are our regular suits—each with the Lord & Taylor stamp of approval upon it—and offered now much below their former prices.

And this is not a mere end-of-the-season clearance. You will find here no dearth either of styles or sizes. There are plenty of plain blues, greys and browns; there are herringbones, pencil stripes and checks, in worsteds, flannels, tweeds and chevots; light suits for mid-summer, others suitable for year-round wear.

Necessary alterations will be made without extra charge

Men's Shoes $3

Women's Shoes

Children's Shoes

This Is Less Than Manufacturers' Price to Dealers.

Since when have you bought shoes for $3.00 per pair? Not for many years past, nor will you again be able to do so for many years to come, if ever.

We are selling these shoes at such unheard of prices only because we must get our money out of them.

We started this mammoth sale four weeks ago with a stock of shoes which had cost us more than five million dollars, and which we could not wholesale to dealers because of the public's refusal to buy at the high retail prices.

The only way to get back any of our tied-up capital is to sell these shoes direct to the public at prices so low the public will buy and buy fast.

World's Greatest Shoe Sale

This week we want every one of the workmen of New York and vicinity to buy shoes for himself, his wife and his children.

He can outfit the whole family for $3.00 a pair and with good shoes, that look good, feel good, and will wear well. We offer them at these prices in all shapes and sizes, black, or tans, and some women's shoes in other colors. We also have shoes at higher and lower prices, but this week are specializing on thousands of good shoes at $3.00.

Don't try to guess the real values of these shoes by the $3.00 prices, or the pictures. Come and see and handle them.
